A Word From the Rabbi

Days of Awe

Busy season, the High Holy Days — are coming soon. Special foods, special prayers and rituals, cooler weather, please? (That's included in my special prayers!) The Rabbis called the High Holy Days "Yamim Nora'im," (ימים נוראים) the Days of Awe. As I get older, I feel like I'm being slowly clued in to what these words evoke. One prayer in particular (some folks love it, others - not so much, not many people feeling neutral) brings our frailty and mortality into sharp focus. I'm referring to the medieval composition called "Untane Tokef (ונתנה תוקף); you know it — "...who shall live and who shall die?" — somber melody, heavy content. When we're younger, we are really not interested in pondering these questions at length. And for many of us, as we age, this topic feels too close for comfort. We brush up against mortality more often.

Growing up in a rabbinic household, I have warm memories of those melodies, of my dad typing sermons on his Olivetti typewriter, of stirring choral arrangements. But there's an awareness connected to the seasonal changes, something I certainly didn't articulate in my years immediately after college and grad school and seminary — maybe it's something like humility in the face of the bigger picture, a belief (and hope) that the fate of everyone and everything is "bidei shamayim" (בידי שמים), in God's hands. When I was younger, the expression "Let go and let God" simply did not speak to me. And now I hear and feel those words loud and clear. I appreciate the genius in the design of our calendar — a month overstuffed with sacred days which remind us of fragility. (Life is a shaky sukkah! Might as well share amazing food and drink with friends in your fragile hut under the stars!) and nurture our sense of gratitude for each and every day.)

So — people — grab it all if you can. Come learn uplifting Torah from a master weaver (Selichot September 13), come soak in some prayer amidst your tribe, visit with friends in the sukkah, catch Sh'mini Atzeret (Ask Melvin Kruger!), dance with Torahs on Simchat Torah. Open yourselves to the awe and gratitude of this sacred season. To everyone — Shanna Tova Umetuka, שנה טובה, ומתוקה, a good, sweet, blessed new year!

A WORD FROM CSI CO-PRESIDENTS

Welcome to September, cooler weather, with hurricanes and associated storms, and the beginnings of our High Holy Days. As this season of rejoicing, remembering, and atoning approaches, we want to wish everyone a wonderful Rosh Hashanah and an easy fast on Yom Kippur. We also encourage everyone to take part in other events that are part of this season, including Selichot (see below), Sukkot and Simchat Torah. Check the dates and times for all services later in this bulletin.

A reminder to all:

For security purposes, if you are bringing family members or guests to any event, please let Stephanie know their names immediately. We will be checking names at the Plum Street entrance to the synagogue; you will not be able to enter the building from First Street, so please bear that in mind when arriving.

Be sure to RSVP for the Selichot celebration on Saturday evening, September 13th from 8:15 to 10pm. Rabbi Aaron has arranged for us to do a workshop with a local weaver. There will also be some nice snacks and beverages to accompany the evening's program.

As we enter this season, we recall that we have both lost and gained members of our community this past year. Some of blessed memory have passed, while we have added several new and renewing members to CSI, some of whom are already attending services and serving on committees. Thank you to everyone who has mourned with us and who has welcomed our new members to the CSI family.

In the midst of our feasting and our fasting, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur remind us that we are stronger when we are together. In our present world, so filled with uncertainty and division, CSI remains a place of welcome, nurture and hope. In and outside of the shul, reach out to friends and extend kindness to those who may be struggling. May this season inspire us to deepen our commitment to one another and to the values that define our faith and Kehillah.

We are grateful for each and every one of you. May this new year bring health, happiness and peace to everyone in our Kehillah and to Jewish people everywhere.

Shalom,

Jan and Michael

Welcome to Our Newest CSI Member - Hart Eidelman

My name is Hart Eidelman. I'm in my late 20s, and originally from the New England region. I grew up going to a conservative shul in Holliston, Massachusetts, went to USY youth group in high school, and then stayed in the Massachusetts area for college and then subsequently during the pandemic, where I lived in Providence, Rhode Island for 3.5+ years. After that, I became immersed in grad school in Cincinnati, OH for 2 years, where I learned how to be a Community Planner - now I work for the Planning and Zoning Commission of Macon-Bibb County! Yes, I moved here for the job, but it was also (in my opinion) just the right time for a change of scenery. Now, I've been enjoying the opportunities to explore the city, eat out at restaurants, cook at home for myself and others, and read books. (I got a Middle Georgia Regional library card already, and am looking to read more in Spanish, which is my second language!) I live downtown, too, only three blocks from CSI! This has made it easy for me to attend Saturday morning services. Feel free to say hi whenever you see me next! Looking forward to being a part of CSI.
